

Look out for the Pink Tax

This week, we learned how products marketed to girls can be more expensive than products stores tell us boys should buy — even when they're basically the same!

Next time you're at the store, be on the lookout for examples of the pink tax. Draw and write about them on this sheet, using the back if you need to. Remember, the product doesn't always have to be pink.

Draw and write here!

---

---

---

---

---

---